

SARAH PARYS FIBER

Sarah Parys is an Omaha based fiber artist and weaver. She has received degrees from both Metropolitan Community College and the University Nebraska at Omaha. She has exhibited her work both locally and nationally and has worked with many clients on custom pieces. Texture, balance, and pattern seem to be a recurring theme in Sarah's work. Whether it be decorative or functional, her work tends to add a sense of warmth and security that other mediums cannot achieve. When not focusing on her art, Sarah enjoys her time outdoors and spending time with her husband and 6 boys.
